

MACLEOD JUBILEE (50th ANNIVERSARY) JULY 1-2-3, '24

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS;
WHAT IT HAS DONE

One of the first and most important things the League did was to establish a permanent Court of International Justice. This was provided for in Article 14 of the Covenant. Within three months of the time the League went into operation it called to its aid eleven jurists, the best they could get in the world. Elihu Root, of the United States was on the commission. After six weeks they made their report. The Council of the League sent it to the Assembly; it was passed unanimously. A form of law giving the Court was sent to each member of the League there, numbering 42. It was ratified by its different parliaments and thus it became an enactment of its own. The Court consists of 15 members, 11 judges and four deputy judges. These judges were elected for a term of nine years, were to have a definite salary which could not be reduced during their term of office. The members of the Court were elected in the following manner: Three months before the elections each member of the League was asked to send the names of two nominees. The Secretary-General made a list of the names sent in and they were submitted to the Assembly and Council. Only one candidate of the same nationality could be elected, the object being that the Court represent the main forms of civilization, and the principal legal systems of the world. When the names were submitted an absolute majority of votes in the Assembly and Council was necessary for election. Although the United States is not in the League, one of the judges is an American. The seat of the Court is at The Hague, where the President and Registrar reside. The President and Vice President are elected for three years. The official language is French. All States have access to the Court, which determines the interpretation of a treaty, any questions of international law, the existence of any fact which is established would constitute a breach of international law, the nature and extent of reparation to be made for any breach of an international obligation, the interpretation of any sentence passed by the Council. There is no appeal from its decisions. The expenses of the Court are borne by the League.

In Article 23 of the Covenant of the League it was agreed to try and secure fair and humane conditions of labor. It was felt that conditions of labor existed involving and creating unrest is great, that the peace of the world is imperiled. An International Labor Conference has been formed. It meets once a year. There is a governing body of 24 delegates and a staff selected from different countries, some of whom must be women. Each nation can send four delegates. Each nation pays the expenses of its delegates, but all the other expenses of the International Labor office paid the League.

The principal object of the League is the prevention of war, so let us see what has been done in that direction. It has settled a serious dispute between Sweden and Finland and the Åland Islands. In 1920 these countries were on the verge of war. Finland at that time was not in the League. Great Britain brought the matter before the Council. Representatives of the disputants and delegates of the Åland Islanders were heard by the Council. A commission of jurists, French, Dutch, Swiss, decided that the matter came within the province of the League, and a commission was appointed to make a report. The result of the decision was that the sovereignty of the islands belongs to Finland—guaranteed were given for the protection of Swedish interests, which the Council undertook to enforce, and the matter was satisfactorily settled.

The difficulty between Poland and Lithuania over the possession of Vilna was taken up and hostilities prevented. A notable contribution to peace was also made by the League in its settlement of the Upper Silesian frontier. The Council of the League was appealed to after the Supreme Council of Allies had admitted its failure to do so. Representatives of Belgium, Brazil, China

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING OF MACLEOD CITIZENS AND RESIDENTS OF DISTRICT ENDORSE BIG CELEBRATION AND COMPLETE ORGANIZATION TO CARRY IT TO SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION

MacLeod's 50th Anniversary Celebration has assumed concrete form. If whole-hearted and unanimous support of the citizens of MacLeod and residents of the district is any assurance, the success of the MacLeod Jubilee on July 1, 2 and 3, is a foregone conclusion. At a large and thoroughly representative meeting in the town hall last Monday night the proposed celebration to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the coming of the N. W. M. P. and the founding of the town of MacLeod was heartily endorsed, and a president and other officers appointed.

Dr. O. Farnset, president of the MacLeod Board of Trade, acted as chairman, and in his opening remarks explained what the meeting was called for, namely: to find ways and means for holding a 50th anniversary. He outlined a programme of stampee and races, that had been prepared for suggestion to the meeting by a special committee composed of A. D. Ferguson, S. Hoop, J. Hicks, H. V. Clarke and A. P. Grady. This committee had suggested the name "MacLeod Jubilee" as a fitting title for the celebration, and that the celebration, last from 2 to 3 days. Dr. Farnset said that Mr. Ray Knight, of Raymond, the well known Western stampee manager, was at the meeting, and would be pleased to outline to them a plan of stampee and celebration as he would advise putting on.

"I don't see any reason in the world why you people cannot put on a real good three days show here, and put it over in good style," said Mr. Knight, addressing the audience. "I am willing to manage your stampee, furnish the stock, put up half the cost of printing and advertising and prize money, on a straight fifty-fifty basis. MacLeod people will build the corals, fences, bleachers, supply feed and water for the stock and I'll be willing to take a chance with them, and go halves either on profit or loss." "You all know the experience I have had in this kind of work," continued Mr. Knight, "and with the outfit I have, of bucking and wild horses, steers, etc., I can assure you a real fine programme, but I don't want to have anything to do with it unless I have the hearty support and co-operation of the MacLeod people. Unless you're all behind me heart and soul, in this project, it's no good; but if you are, then we can make it go."

After Mr. Knight had finished speaking, and a few questions had been answered, on the motion of H. V. Clarke, seconded by Arthur Hoop, it was unanimously decided to hold a three-day stampee and celebration in MacLeod, under Mr. Knight's suggested programme.

On the motion of H. V. Clarke, the name be "The MacLeod Jubilee." This was also carried without a dissenting vote.

A. D. Ferguson proposed that the nominating committee for the chairman of the various sub-committees be composed of the mayor, the president of the board of trade, and the president of the N. W. M. P. Veterans Association, and moved that Mr. Farnset be president of the organization. The motion was carried by acclamation, and in accepting the responsibility, J. W. MacDonald, K.C., made it plain that he would do so only on the condition that the chairman of each sub-committee, they himself wholeheartedly into the work in connection with his department.

The following gentlemen were subsequently nominated and the report of the committee unanimously adopted.

Secretary, H. E. Winter; treasurer, C. A. Mercer; advertising, A. D. Ferguson; finance and concessions, D. J. Grier; stampee, racing and grounds, S. Hoop; reception and O. Timmers; T. H. Stedman; music, carnival and decorations, H. V. Clarke; housing, Dr. O. Farnset; Indians, Messrs. Faunt, Arthur and Rev. Middleton; pageant, J. B. Sutherland. Each of the above named chairmen to appoint his working committee, and all sub-committees to be subject to the rulings of the controlling committee, composed of the president, secretary and the chairmen of the various sub-committees.

A question was asked as to whether anyone could send in good bucking horses. To this question, Mr. Knight replied, "the more the merrier, and the harder they buck the better. I want every local boy in and around MacLeod to feel that this stampee is as much his, in fact, more than mine. I'm just going to manage this thing for you; but any suggestions you may have, why, I'll be pleased to hear and consider them. It's your stampee, boys!" and I want you to know that," said Mr. Knight, amidst much applause.

A programme of the stampee has not yet been decided upon, but there is no doubt whatever, that one of the best programmes of bucking, bull dogging, roping, chariot races, wild horse races, flat racing together with everything else pertaining to the Great West, both early and modern, will be produced—a prize that will delight every one in attendance. MacLeod Jubilee, with its stampee and celebration, will be one of the greatest events that has taken place in Western Canada, and the "WEL-COME" shingle is hung out to come and have a good time at MacLeod on July 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Watch for further announcements in this paper.

Any information concerning the stampee and celebration will be gladly furnished to each and everyone by H. E. Winter, stampee secretary. There are not more than four or five afraid to write and ask questions, secure a programme of sports and events—they'll be ready for distribution in a short time.

SIR EDMUND WALKER DEAD

As The Times goes to press news comes of the death of Sir Edmund Walker, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who died early this morning at his home in Toronto after a few days' illness with pneumonia.

Fuller details will appear in the next issue of this paper.

NEW LIQUOR ACT
LIKELY TO PASS FINALLY
STAGES THIS WEEK

Edmonton, March 22.—The Liquor Control Act will be complete and passed through the Legislature next week.

It will immediately become law so far as its operation can be undertaken at that time. The province is not going to wait any longer on the decision of Manitoba on the question of the validity of the Canada Temperance Act, so far as it applies to the sale of liquor for beverage purposes.

This was the statement made last Saturday morning by Attorney-General Brownlee, who has sufficiently recovered from his illness to attend to his regular duties at his office.

"The bill will be put through next week. There will be no further delay," he said. It is considered likely that the debate on the budget may reach a decision on Monday. In that case it is practically certain that the liquor act will be the first thing to be taken up in the afternoon sitting. There are not more than four or five important sections in the act to be passed yet.

Though it is only a surmise as yet Mr. Dinning restated the intention with regard to the sequence in bringing the act into force—first delivery of beer to householders from the breweries, then the opening of the vendors' stores for the sale of hard liquors and wines, then the opening of the licensed places for the sale of beer, which can only come after a month advertising by applicants for beer licenses, it is therefore, safe to state that, as soon after the passing of the act as the permit forms can be printed and delivered to vendors, the names and location of whom may be announced some time next week. Householders with permits will be able to order beer direct from the breweries which will have the right to deliver.

Vendors' Stores
This should not be later than April 15. It will take a little longer for the fitting and opening of the vendors' stores as the supply will have to be distributed, and May 1 is the most likely date on which they will open for business.

The sale of beer in hotels and clubs will probably not get under way until May 15. These dates may now be considered fairly definite, though there is nothing official about them. The distribution of the opening supply of liquors and wines to the vendors' stores will be easy. It is reported that the new department has a million dollars worth of liquor to go into the distribution centres with the bulk of the stocks likely to be kept at Calgary, Edmonton and Lethbridge.

Hon. Mr. Brownlee stated that, so far as the province's sole right to import liquors for beverage purposes is concerned there does not seem to be much disposition to question that.

JOHN FRANKLIN AT MACLEOD

John Franklin, who has been spending the winter with his family at Palo Alto, California, was a MacLeod visitor during the past week renewing old time acquaintances. Mr. Franklin is on his way to Namaka where he will put the Prince of Wales and George Lane's running stock into training for the season's racing. Mr. Franklin states conditions are poor in California owing to the drought and frost, and states his belief that farmers of Alberta are better off this year than those in California.

PENALTY FOR WEARING MILITARY UNIFORMS

THE MOST SPECTACULAR
BATTLE EVER WAGED

A Fight for Irrigation Waters—The Desert's Life-Blood

A whole town destroyed in spectacular battle which brought lasting peace to the great plains—the strife of primitive men for a great patriotic cause—an epic in national progress.

This is the spectacle of "The Heritage of the Desert," an adaptation of Zane Grey's famous story which has been produced as a Paramount picture, due at the Empress theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

The battle is for water rights—the thing which turns the blistering heat of the desert into an earthly paradise of fertility. This fight, started 45 years ago, is still being carried on today. Seven states are waging a legal conflict at Washington for possession of water rights to the Upper Colorado River in Southern Utah.

Hundreds of players, including a tribe of Navajo Indians, lend picturesque to this picture. A cavalcade of 300 persons traveled on horse back from Flagstaff into these beautiful plains 150 miles to record this great location in American history upon the screen.

The picture is a battle but the same hardships as the people they imitated, braving desert heat and passing along roads built along the sheer face of canyons.

The story deals with the fight between honest pioneers and desert badmen for the possession of water rights of the Colorado River. August Naab, a patriarch of the desert, lives with his followers in an oasis, while ranged against him are Holderness and his gang who occupy the fortified walls of White Sage. The quarrel is advanced to open warfare when Jack Hare, a tenderfoot, who had been driven out of White Sage, is befriended by August Naab.

Naab has a son, Snap, and an adopted daughter, Mescal, whom he hopes will eventually marry. Jack Hare, however, becomes a rival of Snap for the affections of Mescal. Meanwhile, the girl falls into the hands of the Holderness gang. He goes to reclaim her, he is killed by Holderness. Enraged by the murder of his boy, Naab calls his followers together and rides down upon White Sage. As allies, he has a tribe of Navajo Indians. The town is fired and, in a spectacular battle, Holderness is killed and the menace to the peace of the desert wiped out. Mescal is rescued from her captors by Jack Hare and for a space a new era of peace settles down upon this great wilderness.

August Naab has a great vision of the future, a vision which has today come to pass with the harnessing of the waters of the Colorado for irrigation.

Featured in this epic picture are: Bebe Daniels, as Mescal, child of the desert; Ernest Torrence, as "The Covered Wagon" and "Rugles of Red Gap" fame, as August Naab; Noah Beery as Holderness, leader of the desert gang; and Lloyd Hughes as Jack Hare, the tenderfoot.

The spirit of the original tale was maintained through the co-operation of Zane Grey with Director Irvin Willat during the filming of the picture. The famous author visited location and put at the disposal of the director and cast his infinite knowledge of pioneer and Indian life. It has been said that no man in the United States has a wider understanding of the west and its people than Zane Grey.

This is the third Zane Grey story to be produced by Paramount. It claimed that it will far surpass in beautiful scenery, convincing plot and gigantic spectacles of life either of its predecessors "To the Last Man" or "The Call of the Canyon."

ate according to definite rules in order that their seed, if satisfactory
may be in line to receive the highest official seed grade, namely,
"Registered Seed." This grade of seed is required to be pure as to variety, free from weed seeds and other impurities, contain not more than one seed of other cultivated crops per five pounds of seed, and germinate at least 90 per cent. Seed which does not quite comply with this high standard, in so far as freedom from other cultivated grain is concerned, but which does not contain more seeds of other cultivated grains than a total of 10 to the pound, may receive the official seed grade called "Extra No. 1." It is one of these grades which the farmer should endeavor to secure for seedling.

The Association constitutes the chief medium through which the pedigreed seed produced at the Experimental Farms is propagated and brought into commerce. It also cooperates with our best seed merchants, the latter purchasing a considerable proportion of their supplies from or through the former.
The Association is, therefore, in a position to direct prospective purchasers wherever they may be attending to their seed requirements.
No. 1 seed of the varieties which will give them satisfactory results.

The commercial value of pure, vital seed of productive varieties is fully recognized by a great many of our best farmers. Unfortunately, however, it is not appreciated very fully as yet by the average crop raiser.

WONDERS WORKED
BY ONE BOTTLE

Well Known Toronto Man is Quickly
Helped by the Health Building
Powers of Splendid Herbal Remedy.
One Bottle Worked Wonders
for Him, He Says.

Mr. E. M. Morley, of 74 Hook avenue, Toronto, was a martyr to stomach and liver trouble until he discovered the wonderful corrective properties of Drecto. Today he is a well man, and thanks this great remedy for it.

"My stomach was in bad shape," says Mr. Morley. "Everything I ate turned to gas and felt like a lump of lead, causing considerable distress. I had pains in my back over the kidneys, and my limbs ached. I never seemed to get my proper rest and would get up in the mornings as tired as when I went to bed. I had no energy or strength to start the day.

"Drecto has made a wonderful change in me. I have only used one bottle, but I am no longer troubled with gastritis. My bowels are regular. I eat heartily and my sleep is sound and restful. I now get up in the mornings feeling refreshed and have no pains shooting through my back and limbs.

"Drecto is a wonderful tonic, and I can highly recommend it."

Why suffer needlessly when this great remedy is available to give you the same grand benefit it has given to thousands of others? Get a bottle today. It will thoroughly cleanse your system, tone and strengthen the organs and purify the blood. Drecto contains no mercury or habit-forming drugs. It is made solely from the pure extracts of herbs, roots, bark and leaves of known medicinal value.

Drecto is being specially introduced in Macleod by A. D. Ferguson, and is sold by a good druggist everywhere.

MEETING OF RATH-WELL U. F. W. A.

Members and friends of the U.
F. W. A. of Rathwell held their fortnightly meeting in the City Testaur, 11th inst., at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Joseph Watson, of 18th street, a past member who kindly gave the invitation that members might more conveniently meet and hear an address by Mrs. O. C. Edwards, of Macleod. The meeting was opened by the President, Mrs. A. J. White, with a few remarks, adding there was no need to introduce Mrs. Edwards, as so well known a speaker was known to all, and Macleod was honored to have her as a resident. Mrs. Edwards then expressed the pleasure it was to her to have the opportunity to tell of the work being done for the women and children of Canada, but she continued as Convenor of Laws for Women and Children for the National Council, her work was so varied that to bring it down to detail for a short space of time would be rather difficult unless it was suggested what particular subject members would wish her to speak upon. However, the speaker added, "I am quite sure it would be interesting to hear of the meeting of the delegation from the National Council of Women with the members of both Houses, Federal and Provincial," Mrs. O. C. Edwards herself acting as spokeswoman. There was a general assent to this. The speaker then went on to give a graphic description of the reception and the defence and respect and attention that was given to their resolutions and requests, more especially when explained to both Federal and Provincial members that their delegation represented 24,000 women voters of Canada, time limit was granted, but as Mrs. Edwards explained in her usual terse way, the only way to get rid of their lengthy resolutions was to grant them, for they could not be pigeon-holed, for they would be brought up again. Mrs. Edwards said when she unrolled her papers with the resolutions they certainly looked formidable, but the courtesy of members were unflinching. The speaker then went on to explain why some-rid of the laws needed changes regarding women and children, woman's status was changed, we have acquired the franchise without any violent measures too, but it was not quite equal rights yet. She spoke strongly on the divorce laws, etc., naturalization of women in their own right, finding of a solution for standardizing of woman's work in the home.
Mrs. Edwards also expressed the pleasure she had in giving the greetings of the Council of Women to the delegates at the convention of the U. F. W. A. at Edmonton in January. In conclusion the speaker gave a message which, to her mind, spring

always brings: Tear up the old roots of mistakes that have been made in the past and plant anew the seeds of love, truth, and kindness in our homes that we may serve the Savior who alone can make home and life "ideal."

A vote of thanks was moved and seconded by two members; the President then rose and in the name of the members thanked Mrs. Edwards for the very able address th

BISCUITS! What de-

melt in the mouth, and of such glorious flavor that the appetite is never sat-

BISCUITS
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons Dr. Price's

1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1/2 cup milk or half milk and half water

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt, add shortening and rub in very lightly; add liquid slowly to make soft dough; roll or pat out on floured board to about one-half inch in thickness (handle
as little as possible); cut with bis-

$2,500 are exchange phones, $2,500 are rural phones, 1085 are on private party wires, and 13,585 are connecting subscribers. There are 284 exchanges in the province, with 301 toll offices, and 82 private party lines. There are 35,552 miles of long distance lines. The new long distance service into Manitoba has been a great success. As many as 2500 calls a month are handled into Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The operating expenses of the department were reduced $92,841.01 during the past year, while there was an increase in revenue, the revenue for the past year being the greatest in three years.

Motion Pictures on Province
A series of motion pictures on Alberta prepared by the Publicity Branch of the Alberta Government is to be sent overseas for use at the British Exposition shortly. The pictures cover all farming activities and the coal mining industry.

Seed Grain Going East
The Provincial Government Seed Grain and Marketing Plant has disposed to date of more than 50,000 bushels of seed, which is in excess of the amount it was expected would be marketed this season, and compares with 16,500 bushels marketed during the season of 1922-23. A great deal of seed is going out to farmers in the province, as well as to points abroad.

New Settlers Arrive
The first party of new settlers for the Lethbridge Northern irrigated district arrived in that district the past week, conducted from the old land by E. H. Hahn, a trustee of the irrigation district. The new families number 28, coming from Switzerland and Holland. A further party is expected shortly.

Champion Steer
The steer "Linda Gay Lad," bred by the University of Alberta, was awarded the Grand Championship at the winter fair at Saskatoon last week, in the Hereford class.

New Pig Clubs
A thriving new boys and girls pig club has been organized at Verulam, by F. H. Newcombe, District Agriculturalist. The new club has applications for membership totaling 35. Other districts in the same territory are planning to organize clubs.

New Settlers Arrive
The first party of new settlers for the Lethbridge Northern irrigated district arrived in that district the past week, conducted from the old land by E. H. Hahn, a trustee of the irrigation district. The new families number 28, coming from Switzerland and Holland. A further party is expected shortly.

Champion Steer
The steer "Linda Gay Lad," bred by the University of Alberta, was awarded the Grand Championship at the winter fair at Saskatoon last week, in the Hereford class.

New Pig Clubs
A thriving new boys and girls pig club has been organized at Verulam, by F. H. Newcombe, District Agriculturalist. The new club has applications for membership totaling 35. Other districts in the same territory are planning to organize clubs.

Annual Feeders' Day
The third annual feeders' day at the Alberta University will be held on Saturday, April 5, which is the last day of the Edmonton Spring

Show. During the past year the animal husbandry department has been conducting experiments with different feeds for beef cattle, sheep and hogs. As far as possible, the animals that have been used in these experiments will be available for inspection.

A LECTURE ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FULL TEXT

ENTITLED
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE: GOD'S REVELATION OF SPIRITUAL HEALING
BY

JUDGE FREDERICK C. HILL, C. S.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

(From The Portland News.)

A lecture on Christian Science entitled, "Christian Science: God's Revelation of Spiritual Healing," was delivered at the Municipal Auditorium Tuesday evening by Judge Frederick C. Hill, C. S., of Clinton, Illinois, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. The speaker was introduced by Miss Mary E. Corbin, who welcomed the audience on behalf of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, of this city, under whose auspices the lecture was given.

Judge Hill said, in substance:

Christian Science is, as its name implies, essentially Christian, and its practice being predicated upon absolute law, it brings healing from sickness and deliverance from sin.

There is within the so-called human mind a fixed and abiding conviction that it is legitimate to be healthy and happy. This inherent conviction is evidence per se of the fact that health and happiness is the normal state of being. This desirable end can be accomplished only through right, scientific thinking; hence it must be perfectly clear that Christian Scientists looking toward the idealistic or spiritual rather than the outward or material.

Bible Revelation

I have assured you that this Science is essentially Christian. This being the case, Christian Science, as a great religious movement, must be based upon a revelation of the teachings and practical truths presented in the Bible. Lest there be confusion in the thought of those who have never investigated this subject, I assure you at the outset that Christian Scientists use for their study and in all their church services one Bible authority, that of the King James Version of the Old and New Testaments. There are many religious denominations and bodies, each claiming to teach and practice the Christian religion; each giving the Bible as authority for creed and doctrine, and each claiming salvation as the desired goal. There are wide and seemingly irreconcilable differences of opinion among these Christian bodies and an utter disagreement as to the fundamentals of salvation. There is but one conclusion to be drawn:

individuals have ceased to do the natural, normal thing—that is, have ceased to think spiritually and have accepted as facts many conclusions which are not true. As a natural consequence confusion follows, and that which is untrue can never be made the foundation for that which is enduring and true. At this point it is well to understand that there is one absolute truth about everything, and regardless of one's sincerity in believing otherwise, that truth remains infallible and undisturbed, for nothing in human belief can ever change that which is absolutely true.

The Discoverer and the Discovery

Christian Science as it is presented to you and to me came thru the discovery by Mary Baker Eddy of the operation of absolute, fixed spiritual law. In an impartial investigation of Christian Science it is desirable, in fact quite essential, to know somewhat of its Discoverer and Founder. I feel quite safe in assuming that my early experience in the investigation of this subject is similar to yours. My first impulse was to inquire, "Who is Mrs. Eddy? What did she discover and found?"

The answer to these questions is simple and helpful. Mrs. Eddy was a devout and lovable New England woman, deeply interested in the Bible. Early in childhood she displayed a keen perception of the underlying truths contained in Bible narratives. Thru her research and study of the Bible she noted that perfect trust and confidence in God's laws were followed by permanent and fixed results, and that blessing and healing were part and parcel of His infinite plan. She concluded that God governs His universe, His creation, through infinite intelligence or absolute law, and that this law, being spiritual, could be understood and applied, and that when so applied renders null and void the false beliefs of law inherent in the so-called human mind. She concluded that this law could be definitely known and stated, and was as fixed and unchanging as its divine Principle. She further concluded that since disease has no more authority than sin it could be cured and health restored to the body in exactly the same manner and with the same certainty of results as sin could be destroyed. During her investigation an injury caused by an accident led her to discover the spiritual law by which she was healed herself; and later, upon her restoration to health, she applied the same law to the relief and healing of others. In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 107), Mrs. Eddy says: "In the year 1866, I discovered the Christ Science or divine laws of Life, Truth and Love, and named my discovery Christian Science." She had discovered the absolute, fixed, and eternal laws of God and had proved that they are present and operative, and can be relied upon to heal the sick as they did in the time of this book. These laws are "compassionate, helpful, and spiritual" and named them "Christian" (Reverence and Introspection, p. 25); and because they constitute the absolute laws of God, are available, and can be demonstrated, she named them "Science." Hence, Mrs. Eddy discovered and proved the divine laws of Spirit, the laws of Life, Truth, and Love. After this discovery she subjected it to proof, and being convinced of the healing and redeeming ministrations of these spiritual laws, she determined to give to the world the benefit of her observation and discovery. Accordingly she wrote and published "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and designated it the Christian Science textbook. The reading and study of this book, in connection with the Bible, has brought health and healing to many, and is indeed a key to God's inspired Word, the Bible.

Regardless of conflicting reports, I make this positive and emphatic declaration of fact: Mary Baker Eddy is the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science and has been so decreed by our courts.

After her discovery, Mrs. Eddy founded a church, "designed to commemorate the word and works of our Master, which should restate primitive Christianity and its lost element of healing." So she states in the Manual (p. 17). That Church founded by her is the Mother Church in Boston; and the Church, whose hospitality you are now enjoying is an authorized branch of The Mother Church.

Christian Scientists are grateful to Mrs. Eddy for her years of devotion in re-establishing practical Christianity and its lost healing art. They love her in the true spiritual sense, but do not worship or deify her. They are engaged in perpetuating and applying her discovery to the needs of humanity. Because she loved God and because she also loved those who apparently did not love her, Christian Scientists are earnestly striving to make practical her saying "A genuine Christian Scientist loves Protestant and Catholic, D. D. and M.D.—loves all who love God, good; and he loves his enemies" (Miscellany, p. 4).

Reality Is Basic

It will early be discovered that Christian Science emphasizes the final destruction of sin and the healing of bodily infirmities. Some of our religious friends have offered their criticism that Christian Scientists make too much of the healing element. At no time does the human mind part with cherished beliefs or relinquish traditional claims until proof, clear and positive, has been presented showing that there is a better way. It is not surprising, therefore, that after material methods have failed and Christian Science treatment has restored health and happiness to the individual, very much should be thought and made of the healing element. In fact, all Christian Science practice is healing in character whether it is applied to bodily afflictions or to other forms of discord. The healing of bodily ailments by prayer is the "eye opener" to the sick and is positive and indisputable proof that matter is submitting to spiritual law. Likewise the false beliefs which material man calls law cease to govern and bind him in proportion to his spiritual discernment. It is natural in the consideration of this important matter that questions should come to us. I have asked myself many times: Is there an ideal, basic state of being? If so, how may I know this ideal state? How may I become conscious of the way of escape from the baneful effects of apparent disease and disaster? Rightly to understand and draw proper conclusions there must be a clear discernment between that which is absolutely real and basic, and that which, to the senses, seems to be real and is believed by the human mind to be such.

Common experience teaches us that we are consciously or otherwise governed by and subject to these laws. These laws operate in an impartial, uniform manner, regardless of our understanding or recognition of them. The individual who rejects their operation or who disputes their authority, thus ignorance or otherwise, pays the penalty for such infraction in proportion to the magnitude of the offense. The laws of gravitation, mathematics, harmony, and the laws regulating individuals in society operate uniformly and effectively, regardless of the beliefs of those who are untrained or who for some reason refuse to recognize and accept their supreme authority. For example, a score of individuals selected from the ordinary rank and file of humanity will agree that a ball forced into the air will return to the earth, or that any object subjected to the force of gravity will descend to the bottom of Niagara river. When asked why these results are manifest a very large proportion of these individuals can give no explanation whatever of the law involved. Some may have a very vague and uncertain belief, not based upon any scientific fact, that the result is due to some force from above. Quite rarely one alone can explain the theory of the operation of gravitation. During all this time gravitation is operating uniformly undisturbed by ignorance or false belief, and the earth and the planets respond to its force just the same. False belief, lack of any belief in or knowledge of gravitation, has not affected its operation. In the so-called material universe the law of gravitation is basic, fundamental, and there to be understood and intelligently utilized by man. I am sure a personal experience may be helpful in further explaining the distinction between the real and that which is believed to be real.

Some years ago I presented at a bank a ten-dollar bill, a silver certificate. The usual words, "This certifies that there has been deposited in the Treasury of the United States of America, ten silver dollars, payable to the bearer on demand," were printed in the usual vernacular on the face of this bill. I believed this bill to be genuine and, in the light of past experience, I had a right to expect that the paying teller of the bank would at once count out to me ten silver dollars or their equivalent. In exchange for this bill. However, contrary to my expectations, in a very short period of time the teller would come back to me with the word "counterfeit" stamped in large red letters across its face. In a moment of time and without any effort on my part the status of that bill became apparent. I no longer looked upon it as a genuine medium of exchange. It represented nothing and was nothing. It was merely a counterfeit. I no longer expected ten dollars in exchange; I was absolutely convinced that the person would ever be deceived again by that particular bill. My belief in its value was sincere but erroneous. It had escaped detection perhaps many times, yet from first to last it represented nothing, was a counterfeit, and needed but the trained and skillful knowledge of that paying teller and a little red ink to destroy forever its fictitious value. Thru all this experience there was a real, genuine silver certificate in circulation and its value remained absolute and undisturbed. The sincere belief of every person in the world could not make a genuine bill out of that counterfeit. The basic, fundamental value was not there. That bill was but the visible evidence of the counterfeit mind which had produced it, and which, until detected, entered it with its own fictitious value.

Good and Evil Mental

In the consideration of Christian Science it is absolutely essential to understand the nature of good and evil and to be able to distinguish between that which is intrinsically good and that which presents merely the appearance of good.

Human laws have been devised for the protection of individuals as units in the commonwealth. Some of these laws are of ancient origin; so much so that mankind has no knowledge of their source except that they are founded upon usages and customs, which have prevailed so long that the "memory of man runneth not to the contrary." These laws, like others, are based upon the theory that there is a supreme, sovereign power, within the state, commanding that which is right and prohibiting that which is wrong. It should be remembered that these laws have been formulated by the human desire to rise above the chaotic condition of no law and many of them are profound examples of the human attempt to pattern the decrees of infinite, divine justice. There is a well-defined and recognized rule or law which prevails in most civilized countries that every individual is presumed to be innocent of an wrongdoing until proved guilty by competent evidence beyond every reasonable doubt. This presumption is an essential and substantial part of the law of the land, and it is the duty of courts and juries to maintain this presumption of innocence up to the very moment that it is overcome by the evidence. So it is in the complaint, information, or indictment against an individual can never be used in and of itself to contradict or overcome this inherent presumption with which every individual is clothed. It is further a presumption of law that every one is honest, truthful and law-abiding until the contrary is shown. Also the presumption of normality in mind and body prevails, and our courts guard very jealously these wise and humane presumptions. Notwithstanding, human observation and experience present evidences of crime unchecked. Moral delinquency seems to run riot; dishonesty, untruthfulness and infirmity in mind and body would wholly eclipse the desirable ends to be attained. Christian Scientists freely admit that such conditions of mind and body, should not exist among Christians, but common observation will convince any rational person that much confusion is due to the lack of absolute knowledge regarding the sources of good and evil. Christian Scientists do not close their eyes to these apparently alarming conditions. Indeed, they are wide-awake to the real cause, and are doing the only thing that can be done to destroy these false beliefs and to maintain these humane presumptions, not merely in theory but by making them real, enduring, basic laws in fact. Christian Science declares in no uncertain manner that God is the source of all good and that the human, the carnal, mind is the procuring cause of all evil. It presents logical, irrefutable proof that man lives by divine decree, and that the Scriptural text, "In him we live, and move, and have our being," declares the real status of man and not merely an emotional theory. It declares emphatically that evil is not a person, place or thing; that it is not a cause or creator, and that there is no realm or dominion over which evil is the sovereign power. In fact, it denies that evil has any power except such as it assumes in human belief, and it then destroys this assumed power by overcoming the human mind with the divine Mind.

The Worship Of The One True God

Christian Science is a religion and has been so decreed by the courts of our land. Its practice involves obedience to the first great commandment, "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." Its keynote is expressed in the words of the Master, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Its paramount object is worship—the worship of the one true God. Thru this worship healing is experienced. It will be apparent that all true worship must rest for an enduring foundation upon the right concept of God. The wrong concept of God is the foundation for the superstructure of false belief and idolatry. Mere human belief about God can never be substituted for, nor urged to support of, His real nature. To the carnal mind, essentially material, God appears as a magnificent human being—a superhuman man. This conception of His nature and character has prevailed almost universally for centuries, as evidenced by an illustration of "The Heavenly Father and the Evil One" in Faust. In this illustration, God is portrayed as a large, old man, with a long white beard, seated upon an elevated throne. Long flowing robes cover His body and in His right hand is a large scepter. His countenance is stern and commanding and there is no evidence of compassion or love in His appearance. It is not reasonable to conclude that a concept of God could possibly be conducive to true worship or that such a superhuman creature could possibly occupy all space and could hear and answer millions of conflicting human prayers and petitions. Such belief borders upon the ridiculous, and yet many individuals are sincerely holding in thought to such a concept of God and are worshipping that concept of Him. Such practice is idolatry, pure and simple. The fact that there are so many differing religious creeds and beliefs is evidence of gross ignorance and confusion as to the real nature of God. The whole human family will never be united in one brotherhood until there is a common recognition and worship of Him in His true nature and character.

Christian Science presents to you the conception of God as "Infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love" (Science and Health, p. 465). It presents nothing about Him save that which is supported and sustained by Bible authority and which is rational and comforting. When it is perceived that God is infinite, divine Mind, it at once becomes apparent that like produces like, hence His creation must of necessity be mental and not material. God must be sought and found, if at all, through the avenue of divine Mind, and not in or through matter. It then becomes clear that the real man who God pronounced good lives, moves, and has his being in Mind, and is a spiritual, not a material being; and because he is an idea in Mind he can and does express the qualities of that divine Mind which created him. This fact accounts for his ability to think. Even though mortals have a very faulty and imperfect knowledge of the operation of Mind, and believe that thoughts have their origin in the human brain tissue and emanate from the brain, yet though existed before and independently of brain tissue and emanates from the one Mind, God. This conclusion is further supported by the fact that all mortals, as infants are fully equipped with brain tissue. No one, however, seriously contend that an infant exercises the functions of rational thinking. In our more advanced experiences as thinkers the material elements of the brain remain the same. Thought, however, unfolds, expands, and develops, eliciting the conclusion that the brain, as matter, has no inherent intelligence and is not the source of mental action.

God is also defined as infinite Love. This term expresses His divine nature and His compassionate relation to His children. This divine nature accounts for His infinite goodness and His watchful protecting care. Since God is infinite Love, this fact implies infinite goodness; and since He possesses all power, all presence, and all knowledge, it follows as a necessary conclusion that all manifestations of Him must partake of His goodness. Constituted authority therefore, reposes in Him and is essentially good. From this argument it is apparent that there being no good in sin, sickness, or death, God is not the author of them and, from His very nature, could not have a knowledge of them. Such a knowledge would imply the elements of destruction, which are no part of good and would therefore be the very opposite of infinite Life. If that which is evil and destructive does emanate from God, from whence does it spring and from what source does it derive its seeming power? Paul says, "The carnal mind is enmity against God." Interpreted in the light of our definition that God is infinite Mind, the saying becomes clear that evil and all destructive elements have their supposititious source in the "carnal," human mind, and depend upon that so-called mind for all that they assume to be. Now, the mortal mind is a counterfeit, an erroneous belief; it is enmity against the one true Mind, God.

God is also defined as infinite Principle, and Christian Scientists worship Him as such. When it is understood that there is but one omnipotent, omniscient, and omnipresent cause, embracing within itself all wisdom, power, truth, law, order, and perfection, it will be clearly apparent that the term "Principle" is descriptive of the exact nature of the one absolute Mind. It will be observed that divine Principle is descriptive of the one perfect, unchangeable, and eternal cause. This eternal cause is Life, Truth, and Love, and as we apprehend more of the divine nature, we express in human experience a higher and a better understanding of these divine qualities. The verdict of the human senses, however, does not seem to support this happy and desirable state. The human mind, educated and instructed by processes of erroneous thinking, draws conclusions of death rather than of eternal Life; conceives of man as subject to birth, maturity, and decay, and concludes that all is mortal; subject to death—as the word implies. In like manner, the human mind believes a lie rather than the truth, and envy, hatred, and revenge are substituted for Love. All these erroneous conclusions, if retained in consciousness, have but one ultimate result. Death and destruction follow. It is wholly outside the range even of the most material logic to conceive of God, who is infinite Life and the creator of all that is good, as being the author of death and destruction, or to suppose that infinite Truth and Love could possibly be responsible for any state of being pregnant with evil, human infirmities, and malicious purposes.

To limit or circumscribe God to a degree invites disaster at the outset. It would destroy His infinite nature, and deprive Him of His omnipotence, omniscience, and omnipresence. Such a god could not and does not exist, and the religionist who in his thought deifies matter, or who would take from God's infinite nature one of His qualities and bestow it upon some human belief, is an idolater and a worshiper of false gods, as truly as the children of Israel became such by bowing down to a golden calf, or as were the prophets and followers of Baal.

"Eliza," said a friend of the family to the old colored washerwoman, "have you seen Miss Edith's fiancé?"

Eliza pondered for a moment, then bent over the laundry tubs once more. "No, ma'am," she said "it ain't been in the wash yet."

His Diagnosis

"Ah," said the doctor, looking into one eye, "it is easy for me to see what is the matter with you! This is not merely eye trouble; it is an affection of the nervous system. There are all the signs of liver trouble, of fatty degeneration of the heart, of a bad blood supply. The only thing I can recommend is—"

"Here, here!" cried the patient. "Isn't it about time you looked into the other eye? That's my glass one, you know."

DEATH OF SIR EDMUND WALKER

Toronto, March 27.—Sir Edmund Walker, D.C.L., L.L.D., C.V.O., one of the most outstanding figures in the banking and financial world in Canada and who was internationally well known, died early this morning at his home after an illness of only a few days of pneumonia. Sir Edmund, who was in his 76th year, was predeceased by Lady Walker, who died last summer. Four sons and three daughters survive.

Sir Edmund took to his bed last Saturday, a heavy cold having developed into pneumonia. His end was peaceful. His four sons and three daughters were at his bedside. Sir Edmund's last illness was the only serious one of his life. While travelling with the Mendessos choir, he suffered an attack of indigestion, with a cold, which continued when he returned to Toronto. The symptoms of pneumonia developed on Monday. Yesterday it was thought his condition had improved.

Sir John Alder, vice-president of the Bank of Commerce, when informed of the death of Sir Edmund, said that the news came as a great shock. "Above all, Sir Edmund was a great Britisher," he said. He was a man of many parts, prominent not only in finance but in education and music. His loss is a great blow to banking in Canada.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. The four surviving sons of Sir Edmund Walker are Dr. E. M. Walker, of the biological department of the University of Toronto; Ewart Walker, head of the electrical department of the C. N. R.; Alfred Walker, of the Massey Harris Co.; and Harold Walker, barrister. The daughters are Mrs. Guest, Mrs. Carl Hunter and Miss Dorothy Walker.

Sketch of His Career
Sir Edmund Walker was a native of the township of Seneca, Haldimand county, Ontario, where he was born in 1848. He was educated at the public schools, entered the private banking business in the office of his uncle, J. W. Merton, Hamilton. In 1868 he entered the Bank of Commerce as a discount clerk and rapidly advanced in its service, becoming agent at New York in 1881, general manager 1886, director 1906, and president since 1907. He had been vice-president, and president, and at his death was honorary president. He was president of the Brunner Mond Canada Ltd.; director of the Toronto General Trusts, Massey Harris. He acted as chairman of the section of Credit and Money Department of Economics, International Congress of Arts and Sciences, St. Louis, 1904. He was a fellow of the Institute of Bankers, England, and was the author of a number of pamphlets on banking. He was widely known as an art connoisseur and was chairman of the board of trustees of the National Art Gallery. He had long been active in the affairs of Toronto University and had been chairman of the board of governors since 1910. He was also chairman of the Royal Ontario Museum, the Toronto Conservatory of Music, the Art Gallery of Toronto, founder and president of the Champlain Society of Canada, the Royal Colonial Institute, and the Quebec Battlefield Commission. He was knighted in 1910. Toronto University had conferred upon him the degree of D.C.L. Probably no other man in Canada was so active in movements for the advancement of knowledge as Sir Edmund Walker.

Sir Edmund Walker was a Presbyterian in religion, and up until 1911, when he differed on the policy of reciprocity, a Liberal in politics.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Price returned on Sunday night after a protracted holiday trip to California, where they visited Los Angeles, San Francisco, Santa Barbara. They report a most enjoyable trip.

J. MacIntosh, who has been occupying the position of Assistant C. P. R. Agent at Claresholm for the past seven months, returned to Macleod on Tuesday last, where he will visit the home folks for a short time.

C. Hammerley reports having seen three swans flying very low and in a North-westerly direction on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Hammerley informs The Times that swans are very rare birds in this country.

At the meeting of the Executive of Macleod and District Board of Trade held last Tuesday afternoon Secretary Winter handed in his resignation as his entire spare time will be occupied with Macleod Jubilee organization. The Board will appoint a secretary at its next general meeting on Tuesday, April 15th.

Three Lethbridge youngsters ranging in age from 6 to 13 years got carried into Macleod Sunday on a freight train having been playing in a car when the train pulled out of Lethbridge. They got off here and were heading back for their home on foot when Charles Reach, Jr. picked them up and after feeding them at the Reach residence placed them in Constable Jones hands who returned them to their homes in the neighboring town.

One of the first milk purveyors to have his cows tested for tuberculosis was Charles Hammerley, of Macleod. The report he received from Dr. McAfee, the Veterinary Surgeon, who made the test, was of the best, and pronounced the Hammerley Dairy Herd as entirely free from disease of any description. The Board of Health has ordered that every purveyor of milk in Macleod and district must have his cows tested for tuberculosis or any other disease, and Dr. McAfee will attend to the veterinary duties as soon as application is made. The testing of cows on behalf of milk purveyors is

T. H. Morgan, C. E., is now located in Macleod, and in charge of the Lethbridge Northern Irrigation companies interests, in turning on the water in the ditches, which he says will be about April 10. At the present time he is having all the ditch riders kept busy cleaning out the ditches, and hopes to have everything ready for the date set to turn in the water. He looks for a busy season.

John Farren, 19 years old, of Claresholm, was killed at that place on Tuesday evening last, being run over by a freight train. The deceased, with several young friends, attempted to board the train at the crossing to save a walk to the depot. It is surmised that young Farren stumbled over a cinder pile near the crossing and fell under the wheels. His arms and legs were cut off and death must have been instantaneous.

R. W. Russell and J. Alexander report having got London, England, over their radio on Monday night last. They caught the end of the programme—"Rule Britannia," and part of "God Save the King." They were listening in on American stations and catching the 2LO (which is London, Eng.) at the end, and the announcer's statement that the selections were for the benefit of "Our American Friends," are assured that by some freak of wave vibrations the English station interrupted—possibly over a similar wave length. T. A. Crow, at Calgary, reports a similar experience on Monday evening last.

MACLEOD MAN TAKES TABER GIRL AS BRIDE

Taber, March 27.—St. Theodore's church was the scene of an event Wednesday evening, of interest not only to Taber folk but to some in other communities, when wedding bells rang out to celebrate the union in the bonds of matrimony of Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. McMahon of Taber, to Mr. F. Stanley of Macleod. The pastor, Rev. F. B. Leacock performed the ceremony, while Miss Violet McMahon, sister of the bride was bridesmaid, and Mr. Albert Bates of Lethbridge, acted as best man.

The bridal pair were met at the door by the church choir, and escorted to the altar for the ceremony, and friends from Lethbridge, Coalhurst and the town, filled the edifice to capacity. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and the bride's gift to the groom was a diamond ring. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, attended by many friends, who escorted the happy couple to the westbound train for the honeymoon trip to Calgary and other points west.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley will take up their residence in Macleod, on their return, where the groom is on the A.G.T. staff. The bride was formerly a popular member of the exchange staff here, at Blairmore, and Macleod, and as a Taber girl, brought up in Taber, many felt the occasion one far more than ordinary marks of good will. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McMahon, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were among the Coalhurst guests present. Miss Bates of Lethbridge, sister of the best man, was another prominent guest from the city.

GARDENERS REQUIRE PERMIT TO IMPORT STOCK

With the arrival of the seed and bulbs catalogues the amateur gardener begins to make his plans for the garden and grounds and to prepare a list of plants that he intends to buy. In order to avoid disappointment in securing the prompt delivery of shipments of plants from the United States or other countries, he is reminded of the regulations now in force whereby all importers of plants from any country are required to secure a permit to be presented to the Collector of Customs at the port where the shipment is cleared. Permits are required for the importation of trees, shrubs, vines, cuttings, greenhouse plants, roots, perennials, corns, bulbs, etc. Copies of the regulations and information regarding permits may be secured by writing to the Secretary, Destructive Insect and Pest Act Advisory Board, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Washburn, Crosby company, large millers in the United States. Mr. Bausman pointed out that shipments through Canadian ports would not be affected by the provisions of Section 28 and that Canadian flour would continue to enjoy the present railhead rates when shipped from Canadian ports in non-American vessels. He accordingly claimed that United States flour would not be able to compete successfully with Canadian flour for shipment to those ports where the United States shipping service is inadequate and the United States exports would still be compelled to ship flour in foreign bottoms to many ports to meet the requirements of the present day export trade.
